MEDICAL SOCIETY

Met at the Avalon Tuesday in Monthly Session.

WHITE PLAGUE HOSPITAL

Discussed and Committee Named to Meet Fiscal Court.

The Christian County Medical Society met last Tuesday afternoon at the Avalon. Seventeen of the profession were present, including Drs. McCormick and Richmond.

Dr. J. H. Donnelly was on the program for a paper on Renal Tuberculosis and Dr. N. C. Magraw for a paper on Sunstroke. For some reason the reading of these was deferred until another meeting.

Though the Society missed much by omission of the papers named, the time of the meeting was consumed in hearing several case reports of considerable interest to the physicians.

There were two clinical subjects before the meeting, both colored. Very close examinations were made by Drs. McCormick, Sargent, Barnes, Larned and others. Dr. Rozzell, the chairman, called upon the physicians as to their opinions and the two cases were discussed at length.

The meeting was in every way profitable and the physicians present took up for action the feasibility and necessity of establishing a tuberculosis hospital in the county. They were very much in earnest and a motion to appoint a committee to confer with the Fiscal Court with the view of establishing the hospital went through with enthusiasm.

The committee is composed of Drs. J. L. Barker, O. L. Barnes and W. S. Sandbach, Secretary of the Society. Dr. Sandbach is to arrange for a joint meeting of the Fiscal Court and the Society. There is to be no needless delay in the matter, and as soon as Dr. Sandbach arranges for a meeting the other physicians will be notified. Quick action is the watchword, and it is thought that action by the Fiscal Court can be promised within a week or ten days at the farthest. The Fiscal Court meets in regular monthly session, Sept. 1st.

OLD LAND MARK

On West Seventh Street Being Razed to the Ground.

That ancient wooden shack on the North side of Seventh street on the East entrance to the bridge has been torn down. It had stood there for fifty or more years and had been occupied only by colored renters. When it was built there wasn't such a thing as a "fire limit." "Uncle Rich," a respected colored livery man, lived there with his wife "Aunt Dinah," who sold pies, and gingerbread, and used to set "possum suppers" for Charlie Latham, Will Waller and many young men forty years ago. Uncle Rich was drowned at the foot of Ninth street and Aunt Dinah passed quietly away one night, much to the regret of many epicures who were firm in their opinion that she was the best cook on earth.

Action By State Hospital.

The Western State Hospital at Hopkinsville has begun an equity action at Owensboro to recover $1,050, for the care and support of Katie Willis, who has been confined in the asylum since 1906.

FIGHTING THE WHITE PLAGUE

Physicians Aroused As To Necessity of a Hospital.

ANNUAL TOLL 137 VICTIMS

Fiscal Court Empowered To Declare County a District.

The physicians of the city and county are alive to the importance of establishing a tuberculosis hospital in the county. They all agree that a hospital is needed and they are not merely giving the matter a passing thought, but are deeply interested and it is highly probable that within a short time the hospital will be established. The six weeks health campaign being prosecuted by Drs. Richmond, Curry, McCormick and Lackey, county health officer, and the interest manifested by the local physicians, almost assures those afflicted with the white plague that a proper place for their care and treatment will be established.

It is said 137 deaths occurred in this county last year from consumption and that the white plague claims more victims in this county than any other in the State. This should arouse action on the part of all the people. But there is more to say as to the ravages of tuberculosis. Statistics prove that there are more deaths in Kentucky every year than in any other state in the union.

The last legislature passed a very wise law as to how these hospitals may be established and no very great outlay is necessary. The initial step is taken by the Fiscal Court. They have the power to declare the county a district, and a group of counties may declare themselves a district. When the court fails to thus declare a district the people are allowed to vote on the proposition at a regular election. The funds for putting up the building and the incidental expenses of conducting the hospital are supplied by taxing the people in the general county levy. People who are able to, pay so much per week, the poor to be cared for without expense to them.

We believe every physician in the county favors the erection and operation of the hospital, and if those who make their living from attending to the afflicted favor it, surely everyone else should do everything he can to crush out the white plague, which lays its withering hand on hundreds of people in this county every year.

TRENTON COUPLE

Injured By Being Thrown From Buggy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bronaugh, of Trenton, were injured by being thrown from a buggy last Monday. They had been to Pembroke and on their return, when near their home the horse they were driving ran away. The horse struck a telephone post, but was not injured. Mr. and Mrs. Bronaugh were thrown out. Mrs. Bronaugh was considerably bruised and Mr. Bronaugh received a bad cut on the head.

Another Step Forward.

Hopkinsville took another step forward toward becoming a real city Friday night when she dedicated beautiful Virginia Park, the gift of Jno. C. Latham to the town of his birth as a testimonial to the memory of his mother. And the occasion brought out most forcibly the fact that the Third Regiment Band, under the leadership of Harry Lebkuecher, is without exception the best organization of its kind in the country, outside the strictly professional ones, as well as being decidedly better even than many of these.—Todd County Times.

BEEF FAMINE NOW FEARED

Cattle are Short by 16,000,000 Head, While Population Increases.

THE RECORD FOR SIX YEARS

Middle West Drouth Adds to Danger, and High Prices Predicted.

Washington Aug. 20.—A tremendous decrease in cattle, while the population of the country is increasing in leaps and bounds, threatens a beef famine in this country, according to comparative figures secured here today. The department of Agriculture finds that the number of cattle in the United States decreased more than 16,000,000 from 1907 to 1913, a period of six years. The population increased from 75,994,575 to 91,972,226, or 15,977,651 from 1900 to 1910.

The threatened famine coupled with the drouth prevalent in the West and Southwest are likely in the near future to make beef prices soar to heights never reached before.

THE OFFICIAL FIGURES.

Here are the official statistics for thirteen years on the number of beef cattle in the United States:

|-------------------|-------------------|
| 1901, 67,804,032. | 1908, 71,267,000 |
| 1902, 64,424,590. | 1909, 71,099,000 |
| 1903, 61,764,433. | 1910, 61,081,900. |
| 1904, 61,049,315. | 1911, 61,225,800. |
| 1905, 61,241,907. | 1912, 57,957,000. |
| 1906, 61,241,907. | 1913, 56,227,000. |
| 1907, 72,533,996. | |

The Government is working on two plans to check the shortage of beef, but thus far is unable to tell whether either will succeed.

Dr. A. R. Mevin, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, is in South America with assistants attempting to have regulations adopted that will permit of the admission from there of beef in compliance with the United States inspection laws. Even if South America beef is admitted duty free, however, it will take a long time to fix regulations that will allow the meat to pass our inspection.

Officials believe that the chief remedy will be obtained by placing cattle on the free list as already agreed upon by the Senate caucus. The House has refused to free list cattle.

For 117 Fifth Sundays Circle Meetings Have Been Held.

The third circle of Bethel Baptist church, composed of Casky, South Union, Locust Grove, Salem and Olivet churches, will meet at Casky August 30 and 31. This circle has a remarkable record, having met every fifth Sunday for 28 years, this being the 117th meeting. For ten years Dr. J. D. Clardy was President of the circle. Mr. J. F. Garnett succeeded him for ten years. Col. S. J. Lowry for two years and Esq. J. F. Dixon for two years. During the last four years Mr. R. C. Gary has been President. Many of the meetings have been held in most inclement weather and under trying circumstances. Probably no similar organization in Kentucky can point to such a record.

South Carolina Style.

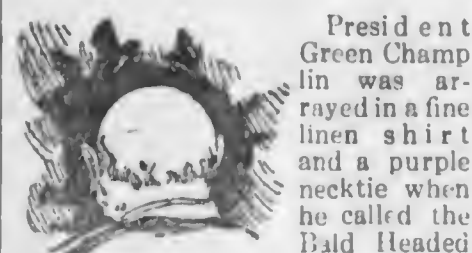

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, stated in a speech to the senate that Diggs and Caminetti would never have been tried in South Carolina as they are being tried in California, but the fathers of the ruined girls would have shot the seducers and would not have been punished.

WOOLDRIDGE IS NOTIFIED

Has At Last Learned of His Nomination For Councilman.

COL. BILL HANCOCK'S SPEECH

Impressive Formalities in the Latham Pavilion at Virginia Park.

Club to order at the Latham Pavilion in Virginia Park Saturday night at eleven o'clock. The President occupied a seat in the center of the pavilion, while a hundred bald heads glistened in the brightness of the cluster of white lights overhead, while stretching far out into the night were vast throngs of visitors who had accepted the invitation to attend the first open session of the club held in a career of fifteen years. President Champin spoke briefly in welcoming the public to the exercises, explaining that the meeting was called to order an hour early as Col. Bob Wooldridge had asked for that much additional time for the speech he was scheduled to make.

But little time was wasted in coming to the special order of the night, the formal notification of ex-President Robert Mohair Wooldridge, of his nomination for Councilman, along with the other bald-headed men selected to serve with him, Cols. Charlie Gee, Sam Buckner, J. A. Southall and Bailey Russell.

President Champin announced that following the next musical number the Notification Committee could have so much of the floor as was not already occupied by Col. Bill Howell's feet. A subdued murmur was heard in the men's rest room underneath, as if some one was rehearsing a speech. An automobile drew up at the Southside entrance and the distinguished nominees alighted and were met at the gate by several members of the committee and the band played "The Conquering Hero Comes," as the committee and candidates came through the Pergola and "up the steps. The music ceased as they appeared and at the sound of the gavel every member arose and gave the highest honors of the order, the salute used in public, made by placing the open palm of the right hand on top of the head.

Seats were provided for the candidates and Col. Bill Cooper arose and said that it was intended that Col. Bill Wilgus should be the spokesman of the notification committee, but Col. Wilgus was in the east giving the baldheaded members of the Cabinet and supreme Court and other statesmen an opportunity to pay their respects to him. This being the case, Col. Hancock would do the oratorical honors. Hearing his name pronounced, Col. Hancock, who was in the rest room underneath, ascended to the floor above with the pious dignity characteristic of him and Bill Taft, calmly sucking a lemon, which he handed to Col. Cooper and began:

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen, Col. Wooldridge and others who also ran: I come before you tonight charged with a responsibility no less important than to tell you something you already know. I come as a citizen of the Sixth Ward, that hotbed of greatness, the home of men who have made Hopkinsville famous from Portland to Portland and from Cold Harbor to Hot Springs.

Lind Declares False Story of Ultimatum Concerning Immediate Notice.

HUERTA SUMMONS JOHN LIND

Latter Informs Washington That He Had a Cordial Interview.

Washington, August 20.—Hopeful, though somewhat puzzled by the day's developments, the administration officials anxiously await the receipt of the Huerta government's complete reply to the American communication presented by John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan had received during the past twenty-four hours.

A summary from Mr. Lind, giving briefly the Huerta government's rejections of the American proposals.

About 1,000 words of the text of the Huerta reply, reported to be about 7,000 words long.

A message from Mr. Lind, stating that he had been in conference at an early hour with Provisional President Beuerta, that the interview had been cordial and was brought about at the suggestion of Huerta himself.

A denial from Charge O'Shaughnessy authorized by Provisional President Huerta, declaring there was no truth of an ultimatum demanding recognition by the United States.

plow to become Consul of Rome, as Wm. E. Gladstone was taken from obscurity to become the Premier of Great Britain, as William Jennings Bryan was torn from the lecture platform to be Secretary of State, so Col. Bob Wooldridge has been lifted from a cushioned chair in the Eks Home to a seat in the City Council. Some men are born with a thirst for office, others cultivate an appetite for pie and still others have offices thrust upon them because there is a great popular clamor for their services. Every crisis in human affairs develops a genius to lead his fellows to glory. The French revolution developed a Bonaparte, the struggle for independence brought a Washington to the front and a demand for a clear-headed municipal administration has brought Col. Wooldridge and his compatriots marching down the hall of fame (Great applause). It is my pleasant duty to give to Col. Wooldridge the surprise of his life and tell him what happened on the second of August. The finger of destiny pointed you out," said the orator, turning to Col. Wooldridge who sat blushing in his seat, "and there is no escape. Your constituents have singled you out as the one great leader who can slice pie with both hands and give every hungry man a bite. I am directed to say to you by the voters of your ward, who are here to back it up, that if you refuse to accept this nomination, there will be a hot time in the old town when you start home to-night. It's up to you, Bob, what you going to do about it?"

Col. Wooldridge rose without the least show of hesitation and calmly surveyed the landscape of upturned faces, raised his hand to command absolute silence and delivered the following impassioned and eloquent address:

"I'm goin' to run, that's what I'm goin' to do."

A great cheer rose from the surging crowd and when quiet was restored Col. Wooldridge and the Committee were gone.

Noticing their absence, President Champin said:

"I'll bet two dollars I know where that bunch has gone. Let's all go. The meeting is adjourned."

Growing in Favor.

The water from the well located on the farm of Luther H. Smithson, near Church Hill, is growing in favor every day. The most obstinate cases of indigestion, constipation and stomach trouble are yielding to the medical qualities of this water by a few days use. Probably half the people who say they have "heart trouble" have nothing but indigestion, sometimes manifestly in an acute form. Try the water from Mr. Smithson's well for a few days and test its virtues for yourself. He delivers it your home at 12½ cents a gallon.

Among the many who are using it with beneficial effects we mention:

STATUE ON BALL BEARINGS

Italian City of Venice Probably Has Only Example of the Kind in the World.

There are many kinds of angels ranging in style from those we read about in the Bible to those who bring out talent on the stage, the American Machinist remarks in describing a new type of the seraphic assortment.
This angel is "ball bearing." It stands on top of the famous tower known as the Campanile di San Marco, in Venice, and swings to the wind like a weathervane.

The statue of the angel San Marco, which surveyed the old city of lagoons since the sixteenth century, was found but little damaged among the ruins after the collapse of the tower. It was repaired and now stands again on the lofty height, but is supported in a very different manner from the old, for it now rests on modern ball bearings.

This method of mounting allows the statue to be turned around a vertical axis by the wind, so that it swings automatically into such a position that the angel always presents the smallest surface to the wind or storm. If one considers that the large wings of the angel, which are 11 feet high, project straight backward, it may be imagined that the difference of the wind pressure is considerable, whether the wind blows against the small front surface or against the side exposing the large surface of the wings.

SOUGHT TO CHEER COMRADE

Incident of Siege of Santiago That

It was long ago at the siege of the ground for hours, since early morning, in fact, with the hot tropical sun mounting higher and higher in the heavens, not even a drop of water with which to moisten his parched throat, and no shelter but the scant shade of a battered palm tree, awaiting the arrival of the surgeon to dress no less than five wounds which he had received in battle. A young private from his regiment who had been wounded slightly in the heel was carried back and laid alongside of Jim. He asked for a mouthful of water. Jim held up his empty canteen and shook his head.

Presently the boy began to moan.
Rising on his elbow, and glancing at the tortured countenance of his companion in misery, Jim smiled, just a little smile of sympathy, and said in a whisper, "Cheer up, pal, I've cabled to Huber's and we're go-

LOOKS EVER TO THE FUTURE

Writer's Idea of Present Day Rome Is That of a City of Glorious Anticipation.

It is hard to see how any one can think of Rome as a dead city. Sometimes it carries itself almost as if it had not yet begun to live at all. It treats its great past as a glorious, solemn and costly throne on which it has climbed to sit and awaits its future. In the Sistine chapel, in one of the triangles devoted to the ancestors of Christ, there is a woman who seems to have taken the very attitude of Rome. She is seated on the ground, the common throne of our race—and no less glorious, solemn and costly than any other seat—and she leans with one elbow on her knee and her cheek against her hand. The other hand hangs down before her,
empty, yet not nerveless, a strong,
vital hand, ready to grasp and hold.
Her whole bearing is that of one who waits, but there is no suggestion of vagueuess or idleness about her. Her head is erect, and her wide eyes gaze forward, outward, steady and bright.
What is it that she sees?

Even so, Rome gazes over the heads of the present generation, not ignoring them, but pointing their attention forward with her, absorbed in the wonderful vision of things to come. We know now that the vision of the woman in the Sistine chapel was the first coming of Christ, but Rome's anticipation is still obscure to us. Perhaps she does not see it clearly herself; she only divines it.
But she is so very sure of it that we must be sure, too.—The Atlantic.

GAY PARTY

Miss Mabel Pierce was the charming hostess of an elegantly planned lawn party, Saturday night, at her beautiful country home, in honor of her house guests Miss Mary Houston
Evans of Guthrie, Ky., Miss Ella Siveley and Mr. Charlie Siveley of Howell. The hostess was beautifully attired in pale pink silk, while Miss Evans was gowned in a pink silk trimmed in Irish lace and spangles, and Miss Siveley wore a lovely dress of silk mull trimmed in wide white lace. The large lawn was lighted with the soft rays of Japanese lanterns. Miss Mary Pierce presided at tractive in a dress of dainty Irish linen, trimmed in touches of pink satin ribbon.

FINE RAINS

In Different Sections Last Sunday Afternoon.

Copious showers fell in the city
and different sections of the county Sunday afternoon. In the northern part of the county, reaching round to John R. Green's farm, they had a regular downpour, as well as in the Howell neighborhood. In the city the rain, for half an hour, was heavy, reaching as far East as Clay street. At the railroad bridge on East Eighteen street, there was not enough precipitation to lay the dust.

Mothers! Have Your Children
Worms?

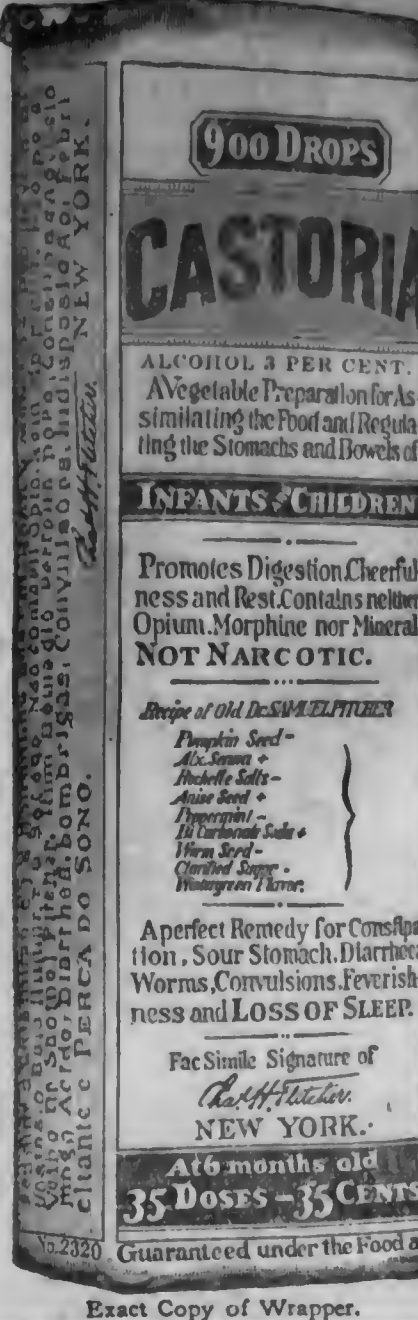

Are they feverish, restless, nerv-

Do they continually pick their nose worms. Worms not only cause your child suffering, but stunt its mind and growth. Give "Kickapoo Worm

Officer's Wife, Just Returned From Honolulu. Tells of Formation of Servant Trust.

There is a servant trust in Honolulu. Will it move east to 'Prisco, and spread thence over the country? "This trust," said a young officer's wife just back from Schofield barracks, "has raised wages one-third. Honolulu swarms with Japanese servants—married couples—men and their wives. You used to be able to get a good couple for $10 a month, but the trust formed, and the rate rose a few years ago to $50, while now it is $60.

"This trust rate of $60 includes not only food and lodging for your two servants themselves, but food and lodging for their children as well. In the past you didn't have to look after their children, but today you must do so—the trust insists.

"Of course, over here, $60 a month for two servants doesn't seem exorbitant, but in Honolulu, where you can live a week on a few cents' worth of poi, it's another story, a story of extortion.

"American women like to go on about the servant question. But, dear me, what will they say when a servant trust question confronts them!"

STILL ALIVE

"So you've lived around here all your life, my boy?"
"Not yet, mister."

MUCH MISPLACED JEWELRY.

Spoken of the experience of a Brooklyn man who recently lost a package of valuable jewels which he was taking to a safe deposit vault, a dealer in gems said: "I never believe those stories until they are a few days old, because I have known so many instances of misplaced jewelry. The last case is only a few weeks old. A woman brought a little leather bag full of rings and other ornaments to have the stones tested for setting before going to her country place. The next thing I heard from the woman was one evening when she telephoned and asked, in an excited manner: 'Can you give a description of the jewelry I brought to you the other day?' 'I can by going to the store, where I have the record.' 'Please do it at once. We are all ready to go tomorrow, and I find that all my jewelry has been stolen.' 'No, it has not,' I told her; 'it's secure in my safe—never been returned to you.' That woman is one of a large class."

HENCE ITS ORIGIN.

"Every superstition, or nearly every superstition, can be traced back to something sensible and rational. Take the Friday one, for instance. The speaker was Mayor Reutter of Lansing.

"Take the Friday superstition," he resumed. "One Lansing clerk said to another: 'Would you start off on your vacation on a Friday, Bob?' 'You bet your life I wouldn't,' Bob replied.

"What a superstitious one you are, Bob?"

"Superstition be hanged!" said Bob. "I wouldn't start off on a Friday because Saturday's payday."

HARDLY A FAIR QUESTION.

So keen is the rivalry between two undertaking establishments to get work from a hospital that the entire force of employees takes a keen interest in the contest. But a darkey scrub woman, new to the institution, did not understand this. So when she told one of the nurses that the patient in No. 3 had passed away during the night the nurse replied: "Oh, I'm so sorry, auntie. Do you know who got him?"

"For the Lord's sake, child, how'd ye s'pose I knows who got him!" exclaimed the astonished darkey.

"They talked still more about you after you left."

'SPEAKING OF LIVES

"It is said that a cat has nine lives."
"That's nothing. Time has more lives than a cat."
"How do you figure that?"
"Why, time can stand an indefinite amount of killing."

ONLY DOUBTFUL CITIZEN

"Everybody is telling exactly what you will do if you are elected to office."
"Yes."
"Well, what will you do?"
"I don't know yet."

UNPROFITABLE FOR HER

"Did you return his presents and get yours back after you quarreled?"
"I should say not. He'd have all the best of that deal."

EASY TO RESTORE VITALITY

Russian Scientist Has Proved Warm-Blooded Animals May Be "Frozen to Death" and Resuscitated.

Professor Bakmetieff of Moscow university has proved that animals may be frozen alive and then resuscitated without the slightest harm.

The first experiments were made with cold-blooded animals and insects. Butterflies were inclosed in a vessel containing air at a temperature of minus 23 degrees centigrade. The body fluids immediately froze hard, all vital actions ceased, and, in ordinary phraseology, the butterflies were "frozen to death."

Professor Bakmetieff soon discovered, however, that by slow and careful warming they could be restored to life at any time before the body temperature had fallen below minus 10 degrees centigrade. Further tests showed that when the resuscitation process was begun at a body temperature of minus 4 1/2 degrees centigrade, recovery was quickest and most complete.

The next stage was the repetition of the experiment on warm-blooded animals and on mammals. Two hundred tests in all were made, and nearly all succeeded. Rats were refrigerated and kept "dead" for many weeks, and then completely restored.

WHEN EDISON WAS PBEVED.

Thomas A. Edison, who is rather hard of hearing, said recently that on one of his rare visits to New York a man was introduced to him who proceeded at considerable length to make suggestions as to the direction in which, for the blessing of mankind, Mr. Edison's inventive faculties might be applied. Then the man switched to the question:

"Mr. Edison, why don't you use an acousticon?"

"What's that?" asked Mr. Edison.

"One of these things that help one to hear better."

"Oh," said Mr. Edison, "I'll tell you. By a carefully conducted series of experiments I have discovered that the gray matter of the average person frazzles out before his voice does."—New York Sun.

SLIGHTLY ADULTERATED.

M. Andre de Fouquieres, the parisian cotton leader, talked to a group of reporters, before his departure for France, about the American woman.

"It is a mistake to suppose that the question of money plays an important part in American marriages," said M. de Fouquieres. "The love match is not rare. Indeed, it is much more common here than with us." Smiling, the Frenchman added:

"I believe there are few American girls who would answer as the candid New York debutante did when asked if she was marrying for pure love.

"Pure love?" said this debutante, with a roguish smile. "Well, not altogether. Pure love, adulterated with a little money."

VALUE OF A NAME.

The editor of a great magazine sent for a certain author who had submitted an unsolicited manuscript. "I am glad to make your acquaintance sir," said the editor, enthusiastically. "The story you sent us is perfectly splendid. But why use a nom de plume? Let us publish it over your own name and it will make you famous."

"I'm not after fame," objected the author. "It's money we want."

"But you'll get just as much money in either case."

"No, I won't. If I publish it over my own name my wife will get the money."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MORE RAIN

Fine Downpour at Pembroke and Other Sections.

Heavy rains fell in different parts of the county yesterday afternoon. At Pembroke, which has been as dry as a powder horn in a double sense all summer, they had the first real downpour for about two months or more.

The northern part of the county had another heavy rain, though they did not stand in need of it. In the direction of Fairview the clouds were black and heavy and the people of that section very probably had what they have been wishing for for over a month.

At the hour of going to press the clouds were thick and dark, with some rain here, accompanied by thunder and lightning with but little wind, and everybody had reason to hope that the rain was general all over the county. A telephone message from Madisonville said the precipitation there was a regular old time ground-soaker and gully-washer. It looks as if the great drought of 1913 has had his spine cracked, any way.

The Rex management has covered themselves with glory regarding the class of entertainment they have been offering the public in the way of moving pictures and now Manager Shrode announces that he is going after the musical end of it.

People of Hopkinsville know Mr. Shrode well enough to know that he is well qualified to give the patrons of the Rex something good in the musical line. Mr. and Mrs. Al. Poeling, of Cincinnati, reported for work here Saturday morning. Mr. Poeling is a violin player of some repute and Mrs. Poeling is an excellent pianist. Manager Shrode has not made known his future intentions regarding the music, but says that he will guarantee its quality and that it will not be of the cheap rag-time quality. Here's predicting something good for the music lovers.

Directors of Orphans Home All Resign.

The friction between the Board of Directors of the Western Ky. Orphans Home and W. D. Humphrey Superintendent who resigned but refused to vacate when his resignation was accepted came to a climax at a meeting held Tuesday night. The board resigned in a body and issued the following statement:

To The Public
At a called meeting of the so-called board of directors of the Western Kentucky Orphans Home we the members of the board feel that it is for the best interest of the home and children that we withdraw from the work, realizing that there is plenty of pleasant work to be done gratis, and as the work has grown very unpleasant between W. D. Humphrey, the Superintendent, we therefore withdraw.

We thank the people of Hopkinsville, the City Council, the Fiscal Court, and all others who have made donations to the home through the confidence they have had in the management of the home through the so-called board.

We wish to say that all subscriptions made to the Home through confidence in our management are hereby released and we hereby certify that we have severed our connection with the Home and that our responsibility ceases.

Wm. J. Oliver, of Knoxville, Tenn., according to a report from there, has taken steps to interest English capitalists in his plan to connect the Tennessee Central Railroad and the Knoxville, Sevierville & Eastern Railroad and build extensions thereto which will result in making a through line from HOPKINSVILLE, KY., which is on the Illinois Central and the Louisville & Nashville railroads to Greenville, S. C., which is on the Southern Railway and the Atlantic Coast Line, and thus form a new route between tidewater on the Atlantic seaboard and the West.

The Knoxville Board of Commerce has approved, at his suggestion, a proposition that Knox county be empowered to issue $500,000 of bonds to aid in the projected railroad construction. It is further said he has received assurances that Davidson county will vote $100,000. To connect the two roads mentioned would require about 55 miles of new line from Knoxville to Harriman, Tenn., and to build from Sevierville to reach a connection with the Greenville & Knoxville Railway east of the Blue Ridge would demand approximately 100 miles of construction; in fact, a detailed survey on it would determine how much would have to be built there on account of the mountainous country to be traversed. The Tennessee Central extends from Hopkinsville via Nashville to Harriman, 251 miles, and the Knoxville, Sevierville & Eastern, which was built by Mr. Oliver, runs from Knoxville to Sevierville, Tenn., 30 miles. The Greenville & Knoxville line, now 23 miles long from Greenville to River Falls, S. C., has begun construction of an extension of about 30 miles to Bravard, N. C. The Tennessee Central is in hands of receivers. To obtain the bond issues desired will require, it is understood, action by the Tennessee Legislature authorizing the counties to make the loans.

On his return from New York to Knoxville the other day Mr. Oliver was accompanied by R. H. Jones, who was said to represent Eastern capitalists. Mr. Oliver, however, declined to talk about it. In addition to a British syndicate, it is reported that New Jersey and New York moneyed men will go into the enterprise. — From Manufacturers Record, July 17, 1913.

OUR ANNUAL AUGUST "RUMMAGE"

Friday, Saturday and Monday, August 22, 23 and 25

Prices have reached the bottom on their tumble downward---and a real bargain feast is here. Odds and Ends from the entire store in exodus for three days---only a few of the many things are listed.

Tomorrow starts our Annual Rummage Sale; thousands will remember that of last year as the season's most wondrous of all bargain events. A sale with the purpose of ridding our stocks of all odds and ends, soiled goods and things undesirable to keep. This year will eclipse our record of last year, when small prices and seasonable merchandise are taken into consideration. It's the last call on summer wearables, absolutely. Of course, the early shopper will have a great advantage every morning of the sale. Note the astounding values for tomorrow.

Don't let anything prevent your taking advantage of this last and greatest opportunity for securing summer merchandise.

Bad Mixture.

Two small sons of Joseph Leveill, a farmer near Siem, S. D. ate a basket of cherries and a few minutes later consumed nearly a quart of milk. Both died in a short time.

According to physicians the cherries and milk produced an acid which caused death.

If you want to do good business, Advertise in this paper.

Worse Than Bed Scraping.

A Princeton dispatch says that night riders destroyed G. R. Ashby's watermelon patch in Caldwell county, cutting up 400 fine melons and pulling up the vines.

Held Over.

Sankey Jones was held over to the September grand jury last Friday on the charge of firing a pistol at the flagman of an I. C. train.

STEAMER SINKS OFF ALASKA

Indian School Teacher One Of Kills A Hundred People In Sub-
The Passengers Lost. urb of Mexico City.

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 20.—Twenty-five or more passengers and seven members of the crew of the Pacific Coast Steamship Co.'s steamer State of California perished Sunday morning in Gambier Bay, 90 miles south of Juneau, when the vessel struck an uncharted rock and sank in three minutes with the passengers imprisoned in their staterooms.

The uninjured survivors, crew and passengers, are being taken to Seattle on the steamer Jefferson and will arrive there Thursday.

A great hole was torn in the bottom of the State of California.

The vessel and cargo, mail and express, are a total loss. The ship was valued at $400,000.

Miss Minette E. Harlan, 35 years old, of Monmouth, Oregon, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Bertha Harlan of Evansville was one of the victims in the wreck of the steamer State of California. With a party of school teachers she had gone to Alaska on her vacation this summer.

Bryan to Lecture Again.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Secretary Bryan made a formal statement today about plans for his lecture tours:

"There has not been the slightest change in my plans and I have no thought of abandoning lecturing," said he. "I expect to lecture just as I would for the reasons that I gave. I take it for granted that I will have a chance to take a vacation just as other officials are having."

"During my vacation I expect to lecture as my needs may require. The only reason why my lecture dates have been canceled during the last three weeks is because I have felt that I should remain here owing to the work that the department has at hand. But these conditions will not continue always. When the time comes for me to take my vacation I shall utilize so much of it as I may find necessary for lecturing."

HORRIBLE EXPLOSION

Mexico City, Aug. 20.—It is estimated that nearly 100 persons were killed and almost as many injured early Tuesday morning when a car loaded with dynamite ran wild down the hill from the powder works at Santa Fe, jumped the track and dashed into a trolley pole in the suburb of Tacubaya and exploded.

The earth for miles around trembled, and great damage was done to property. Within a radius of 500 feet from the scene of the explosion every house was demolished, while farther away in the village and in the adjoining town of San Pedro many fine residences were badly damaged and their interior furnishings ruined.

New Law Firm.

Breathitt, Breathitt & Allensworth is the style of a partnership entered into last week. The combination of these three attorneys makes a very strong firm. Judge James Breathitt is one of the most prominent members of the local bar and is well known all over Kentucky, having served one term as Attorney General. Mr. James B. Allensworth is also well known as an able lawyer and was at one time city attorney. James Breathitt, Jr., is one of the brightest young attorneys in the city and has recently been appointed deputy revenue collector for this district and has entered upon his duties.

Dr. McCormack's Opponent.

Dr. J. N. McCormack is not to have his election to the Legislature without a contest in Warren county. Fred M. Rush, a Republican, and a well known farmer, announced Monday that he would make the race on the independent ticket. The district is normally Republican, and if Mr. Rush can control the full Republican strength, he would be hard to beat. The district was represented last year by Frank Cole, a Republican.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly.

No Other Newspaper in the World Gives So Much at So Low a Price.

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The Democrats, for the first time in sixteen years, will have the Presidency and they will have the Presidency and they will also control both branches of Congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the Old World, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

SPIES AT CAPITAL

Guards and Doorkeepers Serve No Purpose.

Recent Theft of the Plans for New Battleship Not an Isolated Case—Big Business Interests Seek "Inside Information."

Washington.—The flurry occasioned here recently by the disclosure of the fact that certain tracings of the plans for the projected new battleship Pennsylvania had been stolen from the navy department served to enliven a dull period and add a note of excitement to the waning discussion of the California-Japanese "crisis."

The officials of the navy department seem entirely in good faith in their declaration that the missing tracings are of comparatively small importance, and do not disclose any "naval secrets" which would be of value to anybody.

The experience has been a valuable one, if only because it has brought to notice a condition of carelessness and loose management making it possible for any person in or out of the department to purloin papers or other things of value. The same is true of nearly all of the departments. The corridors of all the public buildings are lined with so-called doorkeepers and messengers; more than would be needed to guard the treasures of royalty. Generally speaking, they serve no purpose whatever except to multiply the annoyance of persons having legitimate business in the department. Right under the noses of this horde of hangers-on, and of regiments of clerks—to say nothing of bureau chiefs—information of supposed value is taken, and no one the wiser.

Evidently the drawing first stolen was disappointing; for several weeks later a duplicate, presumably in a more finished condition, was stolen from the same room.

And there have been other thefts since of things of lesser value, but all contributing to indicate that some one within the navy department was guilty. As usual, the empty stable was carefully locked and a force of detectives was set to work to watch every person who might have access to the place.

It is typical of the present state of the public mind that there should be all this furor over a thing of this kind, affecting the subject of war. The theft of a so-called "military secret" is received with a gusto attaching to no other kind of theft. Espionage of forts and ships and such like is no doubt a terrible thing, and the foreign "spy" or domestic traitor who does it should be forthwith arrested and visited with dire penalties.

Yet upon second thought one wonders of what special use it would be to a foreign naval commander to know, however minutely, the system of electric wiring on the ship with which he was going forth to do battle. With which of his heavy guns will he aim so accurately as to cut the slender nerve that controls the forward turret or all the turrets of the enemy? Gunners have attained remarkable perfection, no doubt; but hardly has it reached the point where the location of wires becomes a part of the curriculum of the gunner.

As for the general plan and construction of the battleship, everything practical that one could learn from drawings may be observed by any visitor upon the beautifully accurate models of the ships of the United States navy which line the corridors of the navy department and afford material for the eloquence of a score of guides.

It is most likely that some poor creature in one of the navy department bureaus saw in these drawings for the Pennsylvania, so ready to his hand and unprotected by even the most superficial system of care, a chance to peddle supposedly valuable secrets to the naval attaché of some foreign embassy. In any club of Washington you can hear plausible tales of this sort of thing, the nation of the alleged offender varying with the nationality of the narrator.

Now, you must be careful of the celery you eat. Almost everything else edible has been condemned or officially "suspected" at one time or another, but celery has managed to escape up to this time. Now the department of agriculture has discovered that there is copper in lots of celery, and has issued a warning to housewives to give it a good washing before putting it on the table. The copper comes from a spray used by the farmers to kill bugs. The department says:

"The use of salts of copper in food products was decided by the referee board to be deleterious to health. Under food inspection decisions, 148 and 149, the importation of canned fruits and canned vegetables greened with copper has been stopped. This is parallel to the laws of France, where the use of copper vessels is forbidden in packing food products."

The proof of the presence of copper in raw celery was obtained by analysis of samples offered for sale in the markets of the District of Columbia and other cities. Analysis of four different samples of celery showed that before washing the edible part of the outside stalks contained from 9.1 to 29.2 parts of copper per million, or less than one-sixth to one-half of copper per two and one-quarter pounds of celery.

"The copper in the inside or heart of stalks was much smaller in amount and ranged from .5 to 1.5 parts per million. In the leaves of the celery, however, which are parts of the plant especially sprayed with Bordeaux mixture, there were found from 12.6 to 25.4 parts of copper per million parts. The chemists found that most of the copper in the inner and outer stalks disappeared on washing."

The United States Treasury handled in actual cash during the fiscal year ended June 30 the stupendous sum of $7,071,520,000, breaking all records and stamping the federal treasury, officials declare, as the greatest banking institution in the world.

Reflecting the tremendous growth of the government's business, this high record, including income, outgo and operations within the treasury, exceeded the cash transactions of the previous year by $469,769,000, and those of three years ago by $1,478,826,000. The figures show that treasury officials during the year just closed handled in cash nearly twice the amount of the total stock of money in the United States, which is estimated at $3,720,000,000.

Including bonds, checks and warrants, the treasury handled over $10,000,000,000 during the year. This vast aggregation of wealth, which does not include the transactions of the subtreasuries, was handled, it was pointed out, without the loss of a cent to the government.

The receiving teller of the government took in over the counter $75,353,000 during the year; the paying teller cashed $118,177,000 in checks and warrants; the shipping teller sent $884,518,000 to various parts of the country, and the "change teller" made "small change" for more than $50,000,000. The government received for redemption during the year $606,666,000 in time-worn United States currency and $675,889,000 in national bank notes.

Not a few of the president's visitors from the upper branch of congress call upon President Wilson to "make strong kicks against provisions" in the pending tariff bill which hurt their constituents. Officials at the White house assert that they do not believe senators fear President Wilson as much as they did President Taft.

Senator Taylor of Tennessee was one of President Taft's visitors who was always welcome. There was one time, however, when Senator Taylor went to the White house that he did not go in to see the president. It was the day after the Democrats and insurgents in the senate had united to pass a wool bill.

Senator Taylor felt that the president might be just a little irritated, because there was no gainsaying the fact that some little politics had been played in that alliance. Moreover, Senator Taylor is tactful. He put his head in the main door of the executive office, looked around suspiciously, and asked the assembled newspaper men:

"How are things going this morning?"

"The president has wool in his teeth. He can certainly eat 'em alive," answered a reporter.

"Oh, I didn't have any business with him this morning and must hustle up to the capitol," said the senator meekly, and quickly vanished.

Boys Pick Up Gold.

The gold fever has hit Capitol hill and the small boys of the neighborhood of the library of congress spend the idle summer hours waiting for bits of gold to drop from the dome of the beautiful building.

This massive gold dome, which cost $50,000, is peeling its golden sides and the gold leaf fairly covers the grass below the dome.

An appropriation will be made by congress for money to regild the dome and then the golden shower will be stopped.

Dioegenes' Quarry.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt believes he has found the most honest man in the country. He is A. W. Wechsler of Watertown, N. Y.

Recently Mr. Roosevelt received a letter from the Watertown man, inclosing a lead pencil. This is what the letter said:

"Inclosed find your pencil, which you left on my news stand when you wrote your telegram."

Corrects Geographical Error.

Ernst Rasmussen, the young Danish explorer, has made the important discovery that the so-called Peary channel at the northern end of Greenland does not exist, and that Peary Land is not an island, but a portion of Greenland. Rasmussen started on his expedition on July 10, 1910. He is a native of Greenland, the son of a Danish clergyman and a pure-blooded Eskimo. From infancy the explorer has spoken Eskimo, and has devoted much study to the language philologically, so that he knows it better, perhaps, than any other person. As a youth he undertook voyages in Scandinavia, the Faroe islands and Iceland.

Too Busy.

Gotham—How many buttons has your wife got on the back of that dress?

Flatbush—Oh, I'm sure I don't know.

Gotham—Why, you've buttoned it up for her often enough, haven't you?

Gotham—And you don't know how many buttons are there?

Flatbush—No, when I've been buttoning it up I've been too confounded busy to count the buttons!

EXPERT IN TREE KNOWLEDGE

"Dendrologist" is Title Accorded to Master of That Branch of Botanical Science.

Dendrologist is the name applied to one who is engaged in the study of tree botany or dendrology, which is derived from the Greek words dendron, tree, and logos, discourse, a treatise on trees. Dendrology may thus be defined as a branch of botany that treats of trees, which properly includes taxonomy, morphology, anatomy, physiology and ecology of tree species. While dendrology is a division of botany, it is far more specialized and includes a knowledge of plant life, which is seldom considered to be a part of systematic botany. One who knows botany in a general way is not necessarily a forester, but the dendrologist who has specialized in all phases of the scientific knowledge of trees, including a study of the factors which influence the life and growth of trees in their natural or adopted habitat, possesses the requisite training of a forester. A thorough knowledge of the life history of trees formed the basis for all silvicultural operations which are naturally included within the sphere of dendrological studies. The word dendrologist originated in England in the seventeenth century, and was probably used first by Evelyn in order to designate definitely the expert engaged in the study of tree botany, and dendrology in order to designate the work itself.—Scientific American.

VERY EVIDENT

Visitor—So you've started to school, eh?
Sammy—Yes, sir.
Visitor—How do you like spelling
and arithmetic?
Sammy—Fine; but I don't care
nothin' for grammar nohow.

OF COURSE NOT.

"The art of conversation is dying out."
"We, perhaps, might improve things."
"But we don't feel like exchanging our epigrams for other people's platitudes."

IN JOB LOTS.

"These fine old theological works
don't appear to be a very salable commodity with you, my man."
"Well, sir, the way is, we buy the books in lots, an' we 'as to take the bad with the good."—Punch.

THE CARELESS GARDENER.

"I should have planted more potatoes."
"Why?"
"There ain't going to be half enough to accommodate the potato bugs."

WILLING TO SUBMIT TO TEST.

"George, does your heart still beat true to the sacred cause of woman suffrage?"
"Sure thing, Queenie! Put your darling little head right down her and you'll hear it beating!"

LOGICAL.

"Well, didn't I tell you that we had here a marvelous treatment?
You are not the same man any more!"

"Then be kind enough to send your bill to the other."

GETTING AN AUDIENCE.

"Men take what Doppel says with a pinch of salt."
"Yes, and they won't even take it that way unless he buys a drink first."

DULL RUN.

"The motor wouldn't spark."
"You seem very grouchy over that."
"Neither would the girl I had with me."

Effect of One Bottle.

Crandall, Tex.—"After my last spell of sickness," writes Mrs. Belle Teal, of this city, "I remained very ill, and stayed in bed for eight weeks.
I couldn't get up, all this time, and though my doctor came to see me every day, he didn't do me any good.
I had taken but one bottle of Cardui,
when I was up, going everywhere,
and soon I was doing all my housework." Cardui helps when other medicines have failed, because it contains ingredients not found in any other medicine. Pure, safe, reliable, gentle-acting—Cardui is the ideal medicinal tonic for weak, sick women. Try it.

LOVERS' LONG QUARREL ENDS

Quaker City Couple United in Marriage After Being Separated by Spat for 20 Years.

After a separation for nearly a score of years, during which there were several romantic features, Miss Matilda Kasa, of Appleton, Wis., and George Alvord of 624 Henry street,
Camden, Pa., have just been married.

Twenty years ago Alvord and Miss Kasa were sweethearts in the west.
A difference arose, and they separated. Some time later Alvord married another woman and moved to Camden. With the couple went Paul Engum. After a time the boarder and Mrs. Alvord disappeared and Alvord awoke one morning to learn that his wife had divorced him and had married the boarder.

Recalling his sweetheart of years ago, Alvord wrote and found she was not married. A correspondence was entered into, with the result that the two decided to marry. In the meantime, Alvord received a letter from his erstwhile boarder, in which the latter stated that Alvord's former wife had divorced Engum. The latter had learned of Alvord's approaching marriage, asked forgiveness, and sought to act as best man. Arrangements were under way to carry out such a program, but Engum was unable to come east.

SIX STATUES OF THE WORLD

Continent of America Divided into Two Parts to Please the Artistic Eye.

Only recently the stairway fountain at the Trocadero at Paris, France, and the statues which dominate it were restored. This work brought out a curious fact which for a long time has been forgotten.

The statues represent the five parts of the world, but unfortunately there were six statues. The extra statue is accounted for in this way. When, forty years ago, the sculptural decoration of the palace was ordered (the Trocadero is the only remaining decoration of the exposition of 1878)
it was decided to erect statues to represent the five parts of the world.
But to maintain the symmetry of the decoration six statues were needed, so it was decided to divide America into two parts. Aime Millet and Houssin were the sculptors for South America and Hiole for North America. Europe was fashioned by the chisel of Schoenewerk, Asia by Falguiere, Africa by Delaplanche and Australasia by Mathurin Moreau.

NO TIME FOR FOOLISHNESS.

"I hear you and your girl quarreled at the ball park."
"We did."

"What happened?"
"She wanted me to hold her hand with two men on the bases and the score tied."

SACRIFICE OF PROFITS.

"Why don't you think Staffner's health-food venture will be a financial success?"

"He sells his preparations in cartoons that weigh less than their contents."

SURPRISED.

Robins—Joque found a surprise awaiting him when he got home last night.

Dyer—What was it?
Robins—His wife was asleep.—
Judge.

USED TO EXCITEMENT.

He (of the Gay Way)—And so
you have been married seven times.
Some excitement, eh?

She (of the Spotlight)—Not especially. My act is in a lion's cage, you know.—Judge.

DOUBTFUL.

"Of course your car is the latest model?"

"I'm afraid to say. Motor cars are almost as soon out of date as women's hats. You see, I've had my car a month."

IDENTIFIED.

Smith—Who is that intoxicated
man over there?

Jones—That's a full professor retiring on half pay.—Michigan Gargyle.

LITERARY ITEM.

"Of all Dickens' characters," declared the landlady, as she helped
Mr. Fatalet to meat for the third time, "I particularly detest Oliver Twit!"—Puck.

CAPT. D. BELL

DIED TUESDAY

Interment Yesterday Afternoon At Riverside Cemetery.

A VETERAN OF TWO WARS

Decendant of One of County's Most Prominent Pioneer Families.

Capt. Darwin Bell died Tuesday afternoon, of Bright's disease, in the 86th year of his age.

Capt. Bell was born January 1, 1828, in the first house erected in Christian county, where James Davis, the first pioneer, made his settlement. His father, Dr. John F. Bell, was born in Orange County, Va., and was a son of Capt. John Bell, a Revolutionary soldier who died in 1805. The soldier was a son of William Bell and his grandfather was John Bell, the original ancestor of the family, who came from Ireland. Dr. John F. Bell died in this county in 1878, being one of the most prominent physicians and land owners of South Christian. Of his family of three sons and five daughters, Capt. Darwin Bell was the last survivor. The other sons, Capt. C. D. Bell and Mr. John H. Bell died in this city a few years ago. The daughters are all deceased. The last one of them, Mrs. Fannie B. Henry, died about two years ago.

Capt. Darwin Bell was married Dec. 28, 1857, to Miss Mary W. Merivether and to them were born Mrs. Katherine Bell Manson, Gilmer M. Bell, Mrs. Margaret Bell Williams and J. Frank Bell. The youngest daughter, Mrs. M. W. Williams, alone survives him and it was at her home that his last days were spent. Three granddaughters, Mrs. Cyrus S. Radford, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Clyde Smith, of New York, Miss Viola Williams and one son, Gilmer M. Bell, survive him. Also many other near relatives, as the family is widely connected and very prominent.

Deceased was educated in the best schools of his day and was all his life a student and had a fine library in which he took great pride and pleasure. He was regarded as one of the best informed men in Christian county.

At the age of 18 years he enlisted in Company A, Texas Rangers, at San Antonio and fought under Gen. Taylor in the Mexican war until July, 1848. In 1861 he entered as Lieutenant, Company A, First Kentucky Cavalry, and was soon promoted to Captain. He remained in the armies of the Confederacy until the close of the war, a gallant soldier of two wars.

A good many years ago he gave up farming, which he had followed, and moved to this city.

His funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at the home of Dr. Williams, and the interment was in Riverside cemetery.

JEFF DAVIS PARK.

Work to Be Resumed and Monument to Be Erected.

After months of delay, work on Jefferson Davis Park is to be resumed in a few days. Capt. Charles F. Jarrett, a local member of the Board of Control, has been in communication with Gen. Bennett H. Young, the President, of Louisville, and Gen. Young is anxious for work to begin on the stone wall at once, so that as much as possible be done before freezing weather. The monument to Mr. Davis is an assured thing and everybody interested in Davis Park will be glad to learn that immediate steps are to be taken to carry the work forward to completion as rapidly as circumstances will permit.

Gen. Young sent an architect here last week and he and Capt. Jarrett went out to Fairview and looked over the situation. The architect reported to Gen. Young and he is determined, in the face of all difficulties, to rush work of all kinds and will have the hearty co-operation of Capt. Jarrett, who is enthusiastic and hopes that the day is not far off when the news of the completion of the park and the erection of the monument to President Davis can be sent out to the people of the South.
